

HOW FIVE MINUTES OF YOUR TIME CAN SAVE YOU $300, $3000, $30,000 OR MORE!

If you have a business that accepts credit card purchases, you are paying more than you think. It's true.

Most businesses presume that the percentage they pay for their credit card purchase transactions is what their total cost is when accepting credit cards. So, many merchant service providers offer processing rates such as 1.5%, 2%, 2.5% and so on, all of which are irrelevant to the bottom line cost to you.

The truth of the matter is that those processing rates apply to only the smallest number of transactions, those that are considered "qualified." Is the card that your company just accepted from a customer "qualified?" Most of the time, the answer is NO, so you end up paying a much higher non-qualified rate. Company credit cards, mileage cards, rewards cards and just about all other varieties of gimmick cards out there are not considered "qualified," leaving very few that are, those that would save you money.

Many other merchant service providers will also charge your business additional costs, such as monthly fees, statement fees, annual fees, and per-transaction fees that are usually much higher than most merchants are aware of.

Would you like to know just how much your business is really paying in transaction fees when you accept credit card purchases with your current processor? Here's the answer.

Simply provide us credit card purchase transaction statement copies from the last 2 months of business. We analyze your statements in our office, show you what your business is really paying now and tell you what significant savings your business could be making with us!

We GUARANTEE that we can save you money on the bottom line. Period.

Some businesses will certainly save more money than others. It all depends on how inadequate your deal is now. We'll even take our guarantee to the next level and offer to pay any fees required to switch your current merchant service providers to us or from us, back to your current processor, if you don't save money!

Switching is simple. You use your existing equipment. Easy!

If you decide to save money with us, and are approved for a merchant account, we simply reprogram your existing equipment in minutes. There is no work for you and nothing to buy. We do offer great equipment, if your business ever needs additional terminals or PC-based solutions, but none of these facilities are needed for you and your business to start saving serious money today. It's that easy!
